Experiences

Ruuby

App developer

As a programmer at Ruuby I had to work to fix bugs and software errors in the website, this involved learning a new coding language. I was also needing to analyse areas of improvement and show these in team meetings to help the team speed up the website. I was also managing tickets for tasks to allow the team to get a structured order of what to do next and what is urgent and what isn't urgent not only that i was also doing some hands on coding improving the speed of the website.

Brentwood Rugby club

Rugby

Rugby has taught me leadership; as captain, I must motivate my team before, during, and after a game so that the team can constantly improve. It also requires me to maintain the team's resilience even when we lose the game. Rugby has also taught me perseverance because it requires staying positive and working at 100% until the end of the game. Rugby has taught me to be reflective since throughout training, I need to assess myself and focus on all the things I don't excel at to develop.

Five star ABC

Boxing

This entailed training 3-4 times per week to improve myself and become a better I learned the ideals of personal responsibility since I needed to be accountable for making weight and working out outside of the club. Hard effort, as achieving this objective required many hard training sessions, and I also became more resilient, as even when training got difficult, I continued going.
